City illumination to end tomorrow at 10.30 pm

Mysuru, Oct. 11 (SBD & BCT)- Following public demand to extend Dasara city illumination for a few more days, the Chamundeshwari Electricity Supply Corporation (CESC) has decided to extend the lightings for two more days — Oct. 11 and Oct. 12.

In a press release, CESC Managing Director Jayavibhavaswamy and Chairman of Dasara Illumination Sub-Committee T. Ramesh said the illumination will be extended only in the heart of the city and prominent junctions and roads from 6.30 pm to 10.30 pm. The extension was decided following a meeting with District Minister S.T. Somashekar and Energy Minister V. Sunil Kumar.

Stakeholders from the hotel, hospitality and tourism industry have been demanding the Government to extend the illumination till Oct. 16. Expressing inability to extend the illumination, Jayavibhavaswamy cited additional burden on CESC that is already strained for resources.

The CESC MD has thanked the initiative taken up by top officials to lower rung staff in ensuring an error-free illumination. From Chief Engineer to Director (technical) Manjappa, Executive Engineers, Superintendent Engineers, Assistant Executive Engineers, Assistant Engineers, Junior Engineers and linemen, all have worked hard to keep the city illuminated, he added.

The unique designs adopted for illumination this year was appreciated by the Chief Minister and other dignitaries and also by lakhs of tourists who poured onto the streets after 6.30 pm just to see the lightings and designs, he added.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

We need to work on our body and refine its consciousness. We need to subtilise our physical and stay present with it so that it becomes a conscious instrument. The subtle physical possesses far greater capacities than its gross counterpart. When we direct consciousness onto the body, a living and dynamic presence emerges. With this, a stronger safeguard is erected though this is not always a consequence of spirituality but arises from living more in balance and alignment. It is accessible to all. However, it truly helps to become conscious of this shield. This sheath can be nurtured with our consciousness to fortify the protection. If punctured, it allows mischievous forces to enter and create havoc. This is an occult domain which can be reinforced by spiritual approaches. Thus, we have to be vigilant against negative states which undermine our immunity. Fear renders protection obsolete. Over time in Integral Yoga, we find protection assumes a more psychic quality. As we practise, we become conscious of those inner movements, which jeopardise our inner balance and harmony. Disequilibrium is the foundation of all disease. Wrong movements prompt us to take a wrong turning in life and erode our immunity. Behold the hidden malaise of desire. — James Anderson in The Times of India

Bizarre back relief exercise takes China by storm

Beijing: Thousands of people in China are taking up "crocodile crawling" classes, a weird type of back relief exercise inspired by the movement of a crocodile.

Multiple news outlets have been reporting on a new health trend with dozens of people joining large groups and moving around on all fours. Viral videos shot in large cities like Xiangshan and Changsha show long lines of people all dressed the same and wearing industrial gloves to protect their hands as they slowly move around on their hands and feet. The movement is supposed to strengthen back muscles and relieve back pain if practiced regularly, for a long enough period of time.

Plea to Railways

to position reserved coaches in the middle of train

Sir,

Apropos the news report titled "SWR gears up for hassle-free movement of passengers" in Star of Mysore dated Oct. 3, 2022, I wish to draw the attention of the Railway authorities at Mysuru, to the plight of senior citizens and ladies with children having to walk LONG distance on the PF to reach the reserved compartments in Chamundi, Rajya Rani and Tipu (now Wodeyar) Expresses.

These compartments are located just behind the engine at the front and far away from the station main entrance. Hapless passengers are made to walk back again all the distance at Bengaluru Station to reach the Metro or the city bus stand. This is like the Kannada proverb, "ಮಡ್ಡು ಕೊಟ್ಟು ಬೆವ್ವ ಹಿಡಿಸಿಕೊಂಡರು" (Pay and get Pain).

Other passengers without reservation will be far better in this aspect. They save both money and the pain.

May I suggest to the authorities to re-position the three compartments, namely D1, D2 and C1, somewhere in the middle of the train formation and earmark on the PF by boldly (visible) marking so that it is not encroached by non-reserved passengers by mistake? This will reduce the inconvenience to the elderly reserved passengers at both the starting and destination stations.

The same PF marking system may be followed at all stations enroute to avoid needless crowding. Since all three coaches are together, a single TTE will be able to carryout the duty without any change from the present.

I have made this request to the team of authorities which was inspecting the facilities at the Mysuru City Railway Station on Oct. 1.

I hope my request-cum-suggestion will be given the due consideration.

Stall at Dasara exhibition on curbing cyber crimes

QR codes of awareness videos by Cops on display

Mysuru, Oct. 11 (MK&BCT)- Mysuru City Police, along with CID and Cyber Crime Unit of Karnataka Police, have set up an exclusive display hub on cyber crime at a dedicated stall at Dasara Exhibition Grounds.

The stall was inaugurated last evening by City Police Commissioner Dr. Chandragupta, SP (CID) Dr. M.N. Anucheth and Cyber Crime Dy.SP Yashwanth.

They also released a pamphlet on cyber crimes, tips and a bunch QR codes linking to awareness videos made by Cops. Others present during the inauguration were Mounted Police Commandant M.G. Nagaraju, ACP Shashidhar and Karnataka Exhibition Authority (KEA) Chairman Mirle Srinivasa Gowda.

Karnataka Police Mobile application, Cyber Cell and Cyber forensic information both are on display and audio video information have been arranged at the stall.

The main aim of setting up the display hub is to create awareness on cyber crimes, its changing faces, new modus operandi and newer strategies to extract money from unsuspecting users.

Prevention of tomorrow's cyber breaches begins with the education of today's youth. The exhibition is aimed at empowering visitors with the tools to stay safe in a digital age, said Dr. Chandragupta. Cyber security poses a bigger threat than any other spectrum of technology and cyber criminals have already started abusing technology-controlled devices for propelling cyber crimes such as frauds and thefts, he added.

There are several Government initiatives to combat cyber crimes and the programmes have been implemented with the objective of capacity building in the area of information security, training of Government personnel and creation of mass information security awareness, the Commissioner noted.

On the end-user front, they can ensure several steps so as to not fall prey to cyber crimes. Securing internet networks and financial details with strong passwords, ensuring that our software is up-to-date, ignoring pop-ups, controlling personal and private data, not sharing OTP and not responding to suspicious calls, texts and mails are some of the steps that might keep us safe from cyber fraud, he added.

SP Anucheth noted that a spike in cybercrimes and attacks has targeted private citizens' wallets and personal data. This despite the fact that the Police emphasising that one should not share their personal information or credentials with unknown people out of some temptation or for monetary benefits.

He said that cyber crime has various dimensions and if anybody notices such crime, they should lodge a complaint at the nearby Police Station or call Cyber Crime Police on toll-free number 1930 or Dial 112.

Gangs and individuals target people with fake job letters, KYC verification and fake social media profiles. Reimbursement of fake reward points or cashbacks of e-commerce giants, SOS messages for urgent cash through fake hacked Facebook accounts, customer care number manipulation, frauds in the guise of refund of train and airline tickets and other online payments are some of the ways criminals have adopted to dupe people, he said.

The exhibition highlights crimes like phishing, child pornography, video-call-targeted offences, OTP frauds and latest 4G SIM card to 5G SIM card swap fraud and e-mail phishing, gift, job and instant loan-related crimes and its safety awareness. Also, a citizen-centric portal, e-lost details, password safety and social media hygiene tips are on display.

Stung by MLC Vishwanath's comments on Dasara conduct…

Chairmen of two Boards defend District Minister

Mysuru, Oct. 11 (PM&BCT)- Even as BJP MLC A.H. Vishwanath has criticised the conduct of this Dasara without taking local leaders including those from the BJP into confidence, staunch party workers named by the State Government for different Boards and Corporations have claimed that Dasara has created history this time around. They heaped praises on Mysuru District Minister S.T. Somashekar for the success of the festivities.

Providing data to justify the successful conduct of the mega event, Zoo Authority of Karnataka (ZAK) Chairman M. Shivakumar said at a press conference organised at BJP Office on Sunday that from Sept. 26 to Oct. 8, 2,46,485 people visited the Mysuru Zoo and during the same period, over one lakh people visited the Karanji Lake Nature Park. This is a record, he claimed.

Claiming that the record number of visitors to the Zoo and Karanji Lake was a testimony to the fact that Dasara was indeed celebrated on a grand scale and the credit must go to the Minister, he said. "This was not a Dasara that was conducted in an autocratic manner but it was held after consultations with local leaders," they said.

For the record, Vishwanath had said that Dasara could have been better organised and handled and the celebration was haphazard as local leaders were not taken into confidence. As such, there were several events that were mismanaged leading to outrage, the MLC had claimed.

Claim of history being created

Eager to defend the Minister, Shivakumar said that it would not be an exaggeration if stated that this Dasara created history after two years of pandemic. "Over 15 lakh people saw the Jumboo Savari from the Mysore Palace to Bannimantap, and the hotel industry has generated a business of over Rs. 200 crore and all the allied businesses have raked in a revenue of Rs. 700 crore to Rs. 800 crore," he claimed.

Chairman of Karnataka Exhibition Authority Mirle Srinivasa Gowda said that a record number of tourists are visiting the Dasara exhibition and on an average, over 40,000 to 50,000 footfalls are recorded on a daily basis.

When reporters questioned him that the Exhibition Grounds lacked even basic facilities for visitors, he said, "Lapses are bound to happen when lakhs of visitors come to a particular place and it is a common thing. Many issues of facilities have been addressed and the number of toilets has been increased," he added.

All MLAs, MP invited

Coming back to the topic of BJP's own MLC Vishwanath's comments about unilateral decisions taken by Minister Somashekar, Shivakumar said that the MLC would have commented in his personal capacity.

"Vishwanath is a senior member of the party and he could have brought the issues, if any, to the notice of the Minister before the celebrations or while at least when the Dasara was on. Now there is no point in speaking after the festival," he said.

"All the MLAs and the MP were taken into confidence and everyone was invited for meetings where suggestions were aired and accepted. No one has spoken against the conduct of Dasara till now and the tourists are happy. The credit must go to the District Minister and the District Administration," Mirle Srinivasa Gowda added.

Demand for inclusion of SC, ST reservation hike in 9th Schedule

Mysuru, Oct. 11 (PM&DM)- KPCC Spokesperson M. Lakshmana has demanded immediate inclusion of SC and ST reservation hike announced by the State Government in the Ninth Schedule of the Constitution.

Addressing a press meet at Congress Bhavan here on Monday, Lakshmana wanted the Government to declare when the reservation hike will be included in the Ninth Schedule.

Maintaining that the Government announced reservation hike only because Sri Valmiki Prasannanandapuri Swamiji launched a prolonged agitation, he urged the Government to immediately convene an Emergency Legislature Session for passing an ordinance in this regard.

Terming the reservation hike as a political gimmick when the Assembly elections are just a few months away, Lakshmana alleged that measures have not been taken to fill up 2.15 lakh posts in State Government and 32 lakh jobs in the Union Government which have remained vacant for long.

He asserted that the Government was fooling people in the name of reservation hike. Privatisation of public sector enterprises will in no way help in implementation of reservation, he said and asked the Government to announce reservation in private sector if indeed it had any real concern for SC and ST communities.

City Congress President R. Murthy, leaders B.M. Ramu and Eshwar Chakkadi were present.

Increase in SC, ST reservation: MLA Harshavardhan thanks CM

Nanjangud, Oct. 11- Nanjangud MLA B. Harshavardhan has thanked Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai for coming up with a proposal to increase reservations for the Scheduled Castes (SCs) and Scheduled Tribes (STs) as recommended by the Justice Nagamohan Das Committee.

He was speaking to reporters while participating in Valmiki Jayanthi celebrations organised by the National Festivals Celebrations Committee at Nanjangud Taluk Office on Sunday.

He recalled how he had extended support to the dharna (protest) staged by Sri Prasannanandapuri Swamiji, urging the Government to increase reservations for STs. He also pointed out that when B. Sriramulu was the Minister in Yediyurappa cabinet, it was decided to declare a Government holiday on Sri Valmiki Jayanthi.

At an all-party meeting held on Friday last, Chief Minister Bommai took the historical decision to come up with a proposal to increase the reservation. The Government has responded positively to the long-pending demand to increase the reservation level for these communities in education and employment, he added.

The MLA announced that the newly built Community Bhavans in taluks would be inaugurated soon by MP V. Sreenivasa Prasad and Minister Sriramulu. The date will be finalised shortly.

CJI Lalit recommends Justice Chandrachud as his successor

U.U. Lalit D.Y. Chandrachud

New Delhi, Oct. 11- Chief Justice of India (CJI) U.U. Lalit has recommended Justice D.Y. Chandrachud as his successor. The Chief Justice, who retires on Nov. 8, has handed over the letter of recommendation to Justice Chandrachud.

The Union Law Ministry had last Friday written to the Chief Justice, requesting him to name his successor. In a rare move, the Ministry had even tweeted about it.

The timing of the move too assumed significance as the Chief Justice cannot preside over any meeting of the collegium, the Supreme Court body for the appointments of judges, or clear any appointment once his successor is named.

Citing the same rule, Justice Lalit had prevented his predecessor Justice N.V. Ramana from clearing two appointments. Thus, Justice Lalit-led collegium cannot make recommendations to fill the four judges' vacancies in the SC. Justice Chandrachud, who is set to be the 50th Chief Justice of India, would have a tenure of two years. He is due to retire on Nov. 10, 2024.

Narendra Modi

Bengaluru, Oct. 11 (Agencies)- The second terminal of the Kempegowda International Airport (KIA) on the outskirts of Bengaluru will be inaugurated on Nov. 10 by Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

"I invite all of you to participate in the event to make it a grand success," Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai told party workers while addressing the BJP State Executive Committee meeting. As per reports, PM Modi has also been invited to inaugurate the massive 108-ft statue of Kempegowda, hailed as the founder of Bengaluru.

Terminal 2, or T2, is being built in two phases at a cost of Rs. 13,000 crore. Phase one of the T2, which has an area of 2.54 lakh square feet, will be inaugurated first, while phase two will be completed later, officials said.

Phase one will increase the KIA's capacity by about 25 million passengers per annum, while phase two will add a capacity of 20 million passengers per annum. The construction of T2 began in 2018, and several deadlines were given for its completion but works were stalled due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

The Karnataka Government has also begun constructing a massive heritage park near the airport, dedicated to Kempegowda, the founder of Bengaluru. A massive 108-feet statue of Kempegowda is being constructed, which is touted as the tallest statue of Kempegowda. Reports state that the park is being built at a cost of Rs. 85 crore. The statue is located on a 23-acre plot of land.

Ram U. Sutar and Anil R. Sutar were given the contract to make the statue, who were also responsible for building the 597-feet tall Statue of Unity. The statue of Kempegowda will also be set completely in bronze. In May this year, works were expedited with the arrival of a sword weighing as much as 4,000 kg, which will adorn the statue, from Delhi to Bengaluru.

Poignant real-life stories

When Nobles became non-entities, Princes became paupers and Begums were reduced to beggars...

By Dr. C.D. Sreenivasa Murthy

Dr. CDS

The Sepoy Mutiny (or the First War of Independence as we call it) started in 1857, over the issue of the greasing of the cartridges used in the guns of Indian soldiers of the East India Company army. It was known by the Urdu word "Ghadar" meaning rebellion or revolt.

The rebellion spread rapidly in North India particularly around Lucknow and Delhi. The rebellious soldiers killed a large number of British officers, women and children. They adopted as their leader the surviving Mughal emperor Bahadur Shah Zafar without his consent. He was only a namesake Emperor who was on a generous pension given by the East India Company, and did not have any power beyond the precincts of the Red Fort, nor had the money to help the soldiers. He was reluctant to take on the British army but was helpless and had to go with the demands of rebellious soldiers.

Though initially the British had a setback, they quickly regrouped and took over Delhi. The Red Fort had about 3,000 royal families all of whom were descendants of the present and past emperors. The emperor's court life was filled with pomp and grandeur, though he had no real authority.

Bahadur Shah himself was a refined and gentle soul and a poet. Delhi was ruled by the English Resident. The lives of the royals living in the "Lal Qila" was lavish with big mansions, large number of servants and slaves. Ghadar was a watershed moment in Indian history and the grand and elegant Mughal culture ended suddenly and dramatically.

Kulsum Zamani Begum was the beloved daughter of the last emperor Bahadur Shah. On the night he left the fort, he sent her and her family away entrusting them to the care of Khuda (God). Within a few days of leaving the Red Fort they were looted of all their money, jewels and even their expensive clothes. Finally on the way some villagers give them shelter in a thatched hut. The company soldiers were looking for the emperor's descendants to arrest and punish. They escaped to Hyderabad, where they were given shelter by Nawab Lashkar Jung, who had given shelter to many Mughal royals who had escaped from Delhi.

In a few years the British had their way and the Princess was advised to leave Hyderabad. Some of the well-wishers of the Mughals arranged for her to travel to Mecca. One of the slaves she had freed while she was the Princess in Delhi had migrated to Mecca and had become an extremely wealthy merchant there. He looked after her very well and made her family stay comfortable.

The Ambassador of Turkey learnt that the Emperor's daughter had taken refuge in Mecca and arranged a pension for her from the Sultan of Turkey. She lived comfortably in Mecca for a number of years. Ultimately she longed to return to her beloved Delhi. When she went back to Delhi, the English Governor out of compassion, arranged a pension for her family. The British who had taken away her dad's empire, gave her in return a grand compensation of ten rupees a month.

Sakina Khanum was the daughter-in-law of Nawab Faulad Khan. Nawab died while fighting the company soldiers during the Ghadar. When his body was brought home by the soldiers, Sakina was writhing in severe labour pains. The Nawabs' son had died four days earlier in the war, and his wife had passed away two years ago. Sakina delivered a boy with the help of the servants, while the corpse of the Nawab was lying in the front yard, without even a shroud. She had to run away from their mansion at midnight, taking a few jewels, some cash which was in the house and her new-born baby. The four maids who were in the house went with her.

After a few days, the maids stole all the money and jewels and deserted her. They even took away the new-born son of the Princess. She tried to eke out a living by working as a maid in households. Unfortunately for her, she had no skills needed for domestic help. After all she was the daughter-in-law of a Nawab and had lived in luxury with many servants and slaves at her command. She was frequently thrown out of many homes where she worked, as she could not work hard enough.

Finally, the Princess became a beggar for her living. After a few years, one afternoon she was begging in front of a wedding house. She was exhausted due to the hot summer sun. She had not eaten for many days and was extremely hungry. As she was begging, one young handsome boy came out of the wedding hall. Hearing her wails, he sat in front of her and gave her the food he was carrying for himself. The boy spoke to the beggar and consoled her and told that his mother was a maid in the wedding house.

As he was speaking with her, his mother came out and Sakina immediately recognised her as her maid who had deserted her and realised that the boy who fed her was her own son. After many years Sakina the beggar Princess had been reunited with her long lost son.

Qismat Baig worked as a chef at the palatial Taj Mahal hotel in Bombay. He was a recluse and an irascible and difficult man. None knew his antecedents. Whenever asked about himself he would answer that he was a Badshah and walk away. The Maharaja of Bhavnagar would frequently stay at the Taj Mahal Hotel whenever he was in Bombay, and he immensely enjoyed the food cooked by Qismat Baig.

One day the Maharaja expressed his desire to meet the chef. Qismat Baig, who never liked to meet anyone, was persuaded to visit him. When the king asked Qismat Baig as to who he was, Baig gave a long philosophical discourse. Surprised at the erudition of the chef, the king persuaded him to tell his story. Baig started recounting his long sad story. He was the son of the last Mughal Emperor Bahadur Shah born to a slave girl. He was named Timur Shah after the great ancestor of the Mughals. The emperor had provided well for him and his mother and they lived comfortably in luxury with servants and maids. As a young boy he was well educated and would often visit a Dargah near his home in the evenings and had imbibed Sufi mysticism and Dervish practices.

When Ghadar started, his mother lost everything. He worked as an assistant to a cook and learnt the culinary art. Misfortune always haunted him. He lost his mother, wife and children to illnesses and became alone in the world. Living in Delhi made him very sad and migrated to Bombay where Timur Shah changed his name to Qismat Baig, a man of destiny. The son of the Mughal Emperor had become a Bawarchi (chef) in a hotel.

These are some of the poignant real-life stories in the book "Tears of the Begums". Khwaja Hasan Nizami was a young man at the time of Mutiny. In later years he became a writer. He personally interviewed many survivors of nobility and recorded their tragic stories. It was published as a book "Begumat Ke Aansoo" in 1922. Ghadar was a cataclysmic event in the narrative of India. It ended the centuries of pomp of the Mughal Court and the wealthy refined and elegant lives of the aristocracy. Nobles became non-entities, Princes became paupers and Begums were reduced to beggars. The sad stories in the book bring "Aansoo" to the eyes of the readers.

Mysuru, Oct. 11 (RKB&TRR)- "I used to carry one pot on my head and another on my hip, fetch water from far off ponds and lakes to water saplings, along with my husband," said Karnataka Environment Ambassador Padma Shri Dr. Saalumarada Thimmakka.

She was speaking at an interaction programme on the topic 'Environment and its conservation' organised by the NSS unit of All India Institute of Speech and Hearing (AIISH) at the Seminar Hall of the Institute's Academic Block yesterday. Parents who came with their children to AIISH for treatment also participated in the interaction programme.

To a question from a child asking how many number of trees she had planted, Dr. Thimmakka replied that she has not kept a count of it and she was not bothered about it. "My only concern was to plant saplings and see them grow as trees," she added.

When a child asked about the secret of her good health and longevity, Dr. Thimmakka replied, "My life was not a bed of roses. I had to face a lot of hardships. I worked hard to earn a living." Tears welled up in her eyes and she became speechless when she said that she was not blessed with a child.

Saalumarada Thimmakka International Foundation Convenor Dr. Umesh, who is an adopted son of Dr. Thimmakka, intervened at this point saying that she was 111 years old now and she has no BP or diabetes. "She just eats ragi balls (mudde) twice a day and is leading a selfless life. It is believed that without any expectations, one can live longer with good health. Dr. Thimmakka is a perfect example for this," he added.

Dr. Umesh said that once Thimmakka saw a pregnant lady walking in a hot summer, she thought had there been a tree, the pregnant lady would have taken shelter for some time. This incident acted as a motivation for her to plant saplings and oversee their growth. Then on, Thimmakka and her husband started taking care of plants like their children and oversaw their growth by not forgetting to water the saplings.

Stating that she was an illiterate woman with no knowledge of TV, newspapers or Government benefits, Dr. Umesh said that now the Government itself is after her. "If you do good work, the entire world will be with you and Dr. Saalumarada Thimmakka is the best example for this," concluded Dr. Umesh.

Speaking after felicitating Dr. Thimmakka, AIISH Director Dr. M. Pushpavathi said that this interaction programme is an attempt to invite achievers like Dr. Thimmakka and shed light on their experience and achievements.

"While parking our vehicles, we look for trees to park them under shade. Dr. Thimmakka has planted and nurtured lakhs of such trees and showed a way to protect the environment to the society. She doesn't know what is a Padma Sri or a Nadoja award but still, those awards have come searching for her. With blessings of such a great personality, let us preserve greenery for our future generations, added the AIISH Director.

"We must do our bit to conserve environment by preparing seed balls, sowing them and growing trees all around," urged Dr. Pushpavathi.

Earlier, after inaugurating the programme by watering a sapling and lighting a lamp, Vriksha Maate Dr. Thimmakka sought blessings of the Almighty and prayed for happiness and prosperity of one and all.

Saalumarada Thimmakka International Foundation Hon. Trustee M. Yogeshwar, Dr. Mahesh BVM, NSS Assistant Officer Balu and others were present on the occasion.

Arkasali, Scion of Vijayanagar Anegundi royal family Krishna Devaraya and Kannada & Culture Joint Director V.N. Mallikarjunaswamy.

Mysuru, Oct. 11 (SPN&DM)- Maintaining that Vishwakarma community has contributed a lot for the growth of arts and culture, Sri Shivasugnana Theertha Swamiji of Sri Vishwakarma Mutt at Aremadanahalli in Arakalgud taluk of Hassan district, opined that while physical wealth is momentary, the wealth of traditions and culture remains permanent.

He was speaking after conferring 'Shilpashri' award (2022) at the Silver Jubilee celebrations of Karnataka Shilpakala Academy, Bengaluru and the birth centenary celebrations of National Award-winning sculptors late Devalakunda Vadiraj and late B. Basavanna at Vijnana Bhavan in Manasagangothri along Hunsur Road here yesterday.

Observing that India has its own footprints in the world of sculpture since the times of Amarashilpi Jakanachari till now when our own Yogiraj Shilpi has made a mark, Sri Shivasugnana Theertha Swamiji said that the temple sculptures of Amarashilpi Jakanachari remains outstanding even today.

Noting that developed countries may build sky-rise buildings adopting the latest technologies, the Seer wondered whether these countries do have a rich culture, heritage, traditions and writings just like India. Contending that massive structures are no match to our glorious traditions, he said that India can boast of having rich history, while at the same time, countries like America and China cannot claim this. India has such a rich culture that foreigners invite our musicians, scholars, artists and writers out of affection and felicitate them, he added.

Scion of Vijayanagar Anegundi royal family Krishna Devaraya said that perhaps India is the only country where our family life and cultural practices are blended.

Recalling his study in the USA, where he was for about eight years, he said during his stay, he learnt that there can be no comparison of our culture with other countries. He further said that the future generations would remember us if we do something for our country and culture.

Senior actor Suchendra Prasad, in his address, said that it was Vishwakarma community which explained to the world the secrets of Dharma, Artha, Kaama and Moksha through sculptures and other arts. The sculptures of the past portray our rich culture and heritage, he added.

Ten noted sculptors — N. Raghavendra of Gadag, K. Satish Acharya of Udupi, K. Suresh Acharya of Vijayanagar, Nagendra S. Kammar of Dharwad, Ashok R. Badiger of Belagavi, G.V. Shivakumar of Bengaluru, Nagaraj B. Kambar of Yadgir, Veeresh G. Mayacharya of Bagalkot, Ningappa D. Keri of Kalaburagi and D.N. Chandrashekar of Shivamogga — were conferred the prestigious 'Shilpashri' Award (2022) on the occasion.

Later, a Violin Jugalbandi Concert was presented by internally acclaimed violist brothers Vid. Mysore M. Nagaraj and Vid. Mysore M. Manjunath.

Karnataka Shilpakala Academy Chairman Veeranna M. Arkasali and Registrar R. Chandrashekar, Kannada & Culture Joint Director V.N. Mallikarjunaswamy, Rangayana Deputy Director Nirmala Mathapati and others were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Rancid

Meaning: Rancid means "having an unpleasant smell or taste," and is often used to describe food that is no longer fresh. It is also used to describe something (such as an encounter) that is offensive or distasteful.
Origin: Rancid and putrid and fetid—oh my! While all three words are used to describe unpleasant smells and tastes, each also traces its roots to a "stinky" Latin word: rancid can be traced back to the Latin rancēre; the root of putrid shares an ancestor with putēre; and fetid comes from foetēre—all verbs meaning "to stink." Not long after entering the language in the early 17th century, rancid also developed a second, figurative sense which is used for non-gustatory and non-olfactory offenses, as in "rancid hypocrisy."
Example: "At a basic level, ghee is a type of clarified butter believed to have originated in India as a way to preserve butter from going rancid in the hot climate. Churned cream or butter is simmered slowly until the moisture evaporates and any browned milk solids are removed, resulting in a sumptuously rich, fragrant and nutty fat." — Aysha Imtiaz

THE ODD WORD

Ranarian

Froggy.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Run like the wind

Meaning: The phrase 'Run Like the Wind' means to run very fast.
Origin: No one is really certain of the origin of the idiom 'run like the wind,' but what is known is that early horse racing fans urged their favourites to run like the wind. Considering that, during the days before mechanised vehicles, horses and other animals could only be outrun by the wind, this charming, old-fashioned expression makes sense.
Example: "She's very slight in build and she can run like the wind."

QUOTE BOX

The breath of life is in the sunlight and the hand of life is in the wind.
